1. In a 29 May 1998 Wichita (Kansas) Business Journal article, Edison executive vice president Chris Cerf said that the company would soon be at "static-state profitability," the point at which they will have a profit if they cease growth expenditures.

Schools***

* Some of the school names below actually represent two or more "academies" serving different grade levels within the same school. Edison counts each academy as a separate school, giving the company a total school count of 51. CACE and CERAI's count of 38 total schools reflects the fact that these multiple academies are housed in the same building and served by the same school office.
