A month ago, we asked people to share how Jeannie, personally or through her work, has informed their (our) thinking, accomplishments and life—how she had encouraged or provoked us to make the world better. This Word Art was created using the 200 responses we received.

Martin, Jeannie’s dear husband, shared the following lyrics from Warren Zevon, as part of his note last night (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SHYQuGaKYzk):

http://nepc.colorado.edu/publication/newsletter-jeanne
When you get up in the mornin’ and you see that crazy sun
Keep [her] in your heart for a while
There’s a train leavin’ nightly called “When All is Said and Done”
Keep [her] in your heart for a while

We also encourage you to watch, and be inspired by, Jeannie’s AERA Presidential Address from eight years ago: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E0gGm7zCz7Q

***************

This newsletter is made possible in part by support provided by the Great Lakes Center for Education Research and Practice: http://www.greatlakescenter.org

The National Education Policy Center (NEPC), a university research center housed at the University of Colorado Boulder School of Education, sponsors research, produces policy briefs, and publishes expert third-party reviews of think tank reports. NEPC publications are written in accessible language and are intended for a broad audience that includes academic experts, policymakers, the media, and the general public. Our mission is to provide high-quality information in support of democratic deliberation about education policy. We are guided by the belief that the democratic governance of public education is strengthened when policies are based on sound evidence and support a multiracial society that is inclusive, kind, and just. Visit us at: http://nepc.colorado.edu

http://nepc.colorado.edu/publication/newsletter-jeanne